Investment choice

At RL360°, we understand that choosing the right investment funds is crucial to help you maintain your chosen level of protection benefits.

The aim of the external fund range is to offer you access to the major asset classes including global equity markets.

We offer a choice of funds that you and your financial adviser can use to build a fund value.

You will be able to tap into the skills and talents of an impressive selection of fund managers, including some of the world's leading fund houses:

- Aberdeen
- BlackRock
- BNY Mellon
- Fidelity
- Franklin Templeton
- JPMorgan
- M&G
- Schroders
- Threadneedle
- UBS

In this Investment Guide you will find details of the external range of funds available through Protected Lifestyle, providing information to help you make the investment choices that best suit your needs. Full details of the funds are available from each fund manager.

Balancing risk

To support your chosen protection benefits throughout the lifetime of your policy, it's vitally important you understand the risk profile of the funds you choose to invest into.

The funds available give you access to the following asset classes:

- Currency/Money Market
- Fixed interest
- Equity
- Global managed
- Hedge/structured product
- Islamic

The investment performance of your Protected Lifestyle over time plays an important role in ensuring that your benefits can be sustained for life. If your investment return is less than expected or your chosen investment funds suffer large drops in value then your policy value may become insufficient to pay for your benefits. If your benefits cannot be paid for then you will have to increase your premiums or your cover will cease.

It is therefore important that you and your financial adviser consider the risk involved in your investment choice to ensure that it is appropriate for the needs of your policy.

Different investment choices have different levels of expected return but also different levels of risk involved. You should be sure to consult with your financial adviser when making any investment decisions.

This guide shows which funds are available and in which currency they are denominated – EUR, GBP and USD. Please note that you can invest in any of these funds even if your policy currency is different. Where a fund is denominated in a different currency, investments may rise and fall purely as a result of currency exchange rate fluctuations.

Fund risk ratings

To provide you with additional assistance in making your fund selection, as well as separating the funds into different asset classes or sectors, where possible each fund displays a synthetic risk and reward rating of between 1 and 7 in the overview section. The risk rating aims to provide you with an indication of the risk versus potential reward of each fund in the available range.

How is the risk rating determined?

The ratings provided are those as published in each fund's Key Investor Information Document (KIID) which we have sourced from either Morningstar Direct or from the fund managers KIID (correct as at 25 April 2016). Please note that KIID's are only produced for funds with UCITS* status, therefore if the fund does not have UCITS status a risk rating will not be available.

The rating is calculated based upon the historic volatility (see below) of each individual fund over a 5 year period. So in simple terms, funds with very low volatility will have a 1 or 2 rating. These funds generally have a more cautious approach with little or no exposure to equity markets, and usually invest in cash or money market securities. You should be aware that for funds considered lower risk, the potential for reward will be lower, as these funds are likely to yield much lower returns than funds with a high equity exposure.

Funds with high volatility will have a 6 or 7 rating. These funds tend to have a high exposure to less developed, emerging equity markets or use high risk alternative assets within their investment strategy. Over the long term, exposure to equity markets could provide the opportunity for higher investment returns however, it also brings a much higher degree of investment risk. Although investment gains could be made when markets are buoyant, losses can quickly occur when markets take a downturn. You must therefore be prepared not only for the potential of higher returns, but also the potential for higher losses by investing in these types of funds.

What is volatility?

Volatility is a measure of variance of a financial instrument's price over a particular time period, which means the greater the movement in fund prices, the more volatile the fund's performance is.

Funds with high volatility are generally associated with higher risk but potentially higher reward. Funds with low volatility are generally associated with lower risk, but lower potential reward.

Synthetic risk and reward indicator scale

The scale demonstrates where a fund ranks in terms of its potential risk versus return.

In all cases there is no guarantee that a fund's risk reward rating will remain the same and may be re-categorised in the future. Please note that a low rated fund does not mean it is risk-free.

Although the rating is designed to give an indication of the risk versus reward potential it should not be used in isolation as your personal circumstances and attitude to risk need to be taken into consideration. There could also be other factors, such as investment term, which should be considered so we would always recommend that you speak to your financial adviser for assistance when making your fund choice.

For the most up to date risk rating always refer to the fund manager's published KIID.

Selecting your funds

To help you review the investment options available the following sections provide you with some of the key information you'll require to help you make your choice.

The "Fund range overview" section lists each of the funds by sector and provides the following information:

- currency
- ISIN code
- risk rating
- launch date
- domicile
- annual management charge (AMC %)
- if the fund is subject to any performance fee (Perf fee %)
- if it is a multi-manager fund
- if the fund is classed as socially conscious

A socially conscious fund is one which invests in companies that operate ethically, provides social benefits or is sensitive to the environment.

The "Fund objectives" section provides the fund objective for each fund. Each one summarises the aim of the fund or financial goal it will pursue.

The information supplied within these sections has been sourced from Morningstar Direct and selected third parties and is correct as at 25 April 2016. Whilst great care has been taken to ensure that this information is correct, RL360° cannot accept responsibility for its content or interpretation.

If you would like any further information on any of the funds, please ask your financial adviser. You should be aware that RL360° in no way recommends investment into any particular fund.

Remember, once you have made your decision it is not set in stone. You can switch between funds at any time.

Please be aware that investment returns may fluctuate and are not guaranteed. The price of units may fall as well as rise as a result of market and currency fluctuations and you may get back less than you paid in.

Fund range overview

The range of funds available are shown below in their respective sector, along with some key information for the fund.

A bid/offer spread of 2.5% applies to each fund, with the exception of the GBP/USD/EUR Cash Funds. This means you buy units at the offer price which are then valued in your policy at the bid price. The bid price is 2.5% less than the offer price. For the Cash Funds the bid and offer price will be the same.
