Investment choice for your Oracle

At Royal London 360°, we understand that choosing the right type of investment is vital in helping you achieve the future you want and deserve.

That is why a key aim of Oracle is to offer a broad choice of funds through which you can invest your money for the future. After all, flexibility and choice are important components of a successful investment approach.

We offer a carefully selected range of individual funds that you and your financial adviser can use to build a portfolio to match your personal needs and aspirations.

Whether you are interested in investing in more traditional asset classes such as equities or bonds, or prefer to diversify into specialist sectors such as emerging markets and alternative funds, we believe Oracle offers the funds that can suit your needs; both now and in the future.

You will be able to tap into the skills and talents of an impressive selection of fund managers, including some of the world's leading fund houses:

- Aberdeen
- BlackRock
- BNP Paribas
- Franklin Templeton
- Fidelity
- JPMorgan
- M&G
- Schroders
- Threadneedle
- UBS

Whether you want to control the risk to your investment through your choice of funds, or are looking for expertise in global diversification, Oracle offers access to a number of managed funds.

Run by professional fund managers looking after the selection and monitoring of the individual funds, they offer a wide choice of options, from the more traditionally managed fund investing in all the major asset classes, to more focused managed equity funds.

In this guide you will find details which will assist you in making the investment choices that best suit your needs.

Risk and return

An important step towards achieving a successful investment portfolio is ensuring the funds you select meet your investment risk profile. Oracle provides access to the main asset classes and a broad representation of investment sectors. You may be prepared to accept a higher degree of risk in your policy to achieve potentially higher returns, or you may prefer a more cautious approach where your exposure to risk is reduced, but with the possibility of lowering your returns.

Whatever your views, we believe Oracle's fund range provides access to the main asset classes and specialist sectors. From lower risk money market funds, through the balanced managed sector and right up through to higher risk specialist equity funds, they aim to meet your investment objectives.

The funds available provide access to the following asset classes:

- Currency/Money Market
- Fixed interest
- Equity
- Hedge
- Managed
- Property
- Total return

For more details about any of these asset classes please speak with your financial adviser.

The equity sector is then filtered into the following specialist sectors:

- Global (international coverage)
- Islamic (shariah compliant)
- Regional (e.g. emerging markets, Far East)
- Single country (e.g. India, China, Taiwan)
- Specialist (e.g. commodities)

This guide shows you the funds that are available and in which currency they are denominated — USD, GBP, CHF, EUR, AUD and JPY. Please note that you can invest in any of these funds despite nominating a different currency for your policy.

Where a fund is denominated in a different currency to that of your policy, investments may rise and fall purely as a result of exchange rate fluctuations.

Fund risk ratings

To provide you with additional assistance in making your fund selection, as well as separating the funds into different asset classes or sectors, where possible each fund displays a synthetic risk and reward rating of between 1 and 7 in the overview section. The risk rating aims to provide you with an indication of the risk versus potential reward of each fund in the available range.

How is the risk rating determined?

The ratings provided are those as published in each fund's Key Investor Information Document (KIID) which we have sourced from either Morningstar Direct or from the fund managers KIID (correct as at 18 June 2013). Please note that KIID's are only produced for funds with UCITS* status, therefore if the fund does not have UCITS status a risk rating will not be available.

The rating is calculated based upon the historic volatility (see below) of each individual fund over a 5 year period. So in simple terms, funds with very low volatility will have a 1 or 2 rating. These funds generally have a more cautious approach with little or no exposure to equity markets, and usually invest in cash or money market securities. You should be aware that for funds considered lower risk, the potential for reward will be lower, as these funds are likely to yield much lower returns than funds with a high equity exposure.

Funds with high volatility will have a 6 or 7 rating. These funds tend to have a high exposure to less developed, emerging equity markets or use high risk alternative assets within their investment strategy. Over the long term, exposure to equity markets could provide the opportunity for higher investment returns however, it also brings a much higher degree of investment risk. Although investment gains could be made when markets are buoyant, losses can quickly occur when markets take a downturn. You must therefore be prepared not only for the potential of higher returns, but also the potential for higher losses by investing in these types of funds.

What is volatility?

Volatility is a measure of variance of a financial instrument's price over a particular time period, which means the greater the movement in fund prices, the more volatile the fund's performance is.

Funds with high volatility are generally associated with higher risk but potentially higher reward. Funds with low volatility are generally associated with lower risk, but lower potential reward.

Synthetic risk and reward indicator scale

The scale demonstrates where a fund ranks in terms of its potential risk versus return.

In all cases there is no guarantee that a fund's risk reward rating will remain the same and may be re-categorised in the future. Please note that a low rated fund does not mean it is risk-free.

Although the rating is designed to give an indication of the risk versus reward potential it should not be used in isolation as your personal circumstances and attitude to risk need to be taken into consideration. There could also be other factors, such as investment term, which should be considered so we would always recommend that you speak to your financial adviser for assistance when making your fund choice.

For the most up to date risk rating always refer to the fund manager's published KIID.

Managed funds

Whether you're looking for an expert to control the investment risk through asset class diversification, or you want the freedom of a manager that selects the most suitable or best performing funds in the market, managed funds could be the answer.

Managed funds

The fund range includes traditional managed funds where a fund manager invests across a number of asset classes, diversifying the portfolio which allows them to control the risk level of the fund.

The demand from investors for positive returns, despite the market's direction, has worked to drive innovation in the fund management industry. This has led to regulation changes which have increased fund managers' investment powers when managing these types of funds. Traditionally the onus was on the fund manager to predict the top and bottom of markets, now some fund managers can choose to utilise these alternative asset classes and strategies - such as derivatives or currency hedging - to try and increase returns on the fund whilst maintaining the overall risk of the portfolio.

Multi-manager funds

Multi-manager funds provide a solution where the manager will select the most suitable funds to make up the portfolio. The manager uses expertise and extensive research to select a number of funds, allowing them to utilise other managers' specific areas of expertise for sections of their portfolio, whilst they control the overall investment strategy. A fund utilising this strategy can also be referred to as a Fund of Funds.

The manager will constantly monitor the portfolio, adding or removing funds where necessary, to ensure they continue to meet the desired objective. These funds offer a total portfolio solution in one convenient package, providing access to a number of regions, asset classes, investment styles and managers, or a specific risk profile approach not necessarily available through an individual fund offering.

A world of investment choice

To help you review the investment options available the following sections provide you with some of the key information you'll require to help you make your choice.

You are not limited to the number of funds that can be held in your policy provided each holding is above the minimum fund investment level. Further details can be found in the Key Features.

The "Fund range overview" section lists each of the funds by sector and provides the following information:

- currency
- ISIN code
- risk rating
- launch date
- domicile
- annual management charge (AMC %)
- if the fund is subject to any performance fee (Perf fee %)
- if it is a multi-manager fund
- if the fund is classed as socially conscious

A socially conscious fund is one which invests in companies that operate ethically, provides social benefits or is sensitive to the environment.

The "Fund objectives" section provides the fund objective for each fund. Each one summarises the aim of the fund or financial goal it will pursue.

The information supplied within these sections has been sourced from Morningstar Direct and selected third parties and is correct as at 18 June 2013. Whilst great care has been taken to ensure that this information is correct, Royal London 360° cannot accept responsibility for its content or interpretation.

If you would like any further information on any of the funds, please ask your financial adviser. You should be aware that Royal London 360° in no way recommends investment into any particular fund.

Remember, once you have made your decision it is not set in stone. You can switch between funds at any time (currently free of charge).

Please also note that all the funds are available at the 'net asset value' (NAV), which means there are no initial fund charges. This Investment Guide does not detail any policy specific charges. For further details please refer to the Key Features. The Terms and Conditions are available on request.

Please be aware that investment returns may fluctuate and are not guaranteed. The price of units may fall as well as rise as a result of market and currency fluctuations and you may get back less than you paid in.
